PEANUTS SEARCHED FOR BY EVERYBODY

Westchester Placarded with Notices for Banker's Daughter's Daschhund Pup.

All the village sleuths of Westchester are today on the hunt for peanuts and a $5 reward because Banker E. C. Potter who has a beautiful country home there has the whole village placarded with signs reading:

LOST—Saturday, April 28, a small daschhund pup, brown, answers to the name of Peanut. $5 will be paid if returned to E. C. Potter, Country Club Grounds. No questions asked.

Peanuts was the pet of Miss Mary B. Potter, pretty young daughter of Mr. Potter whose place of business is No. 56 Wall street. Peanuts wore a dandy leather collar to which a little pink bow had been tied when he was last seen. Saturday he went for a walk on the beach with Miss Potter. She didn't notice him carefully and he wandered. Maybe he fell in, or maybe Agent Anderson of the S. P. C. took him. Anderson has been making life very precarious for Westchester dogs ever since Capt. Grey of the Westchester station invited him to come up to the villa where the captain said he would find more dogs than humans.

Miss Potter was very angry about Peanuts when a reporter called to-day. The first question she asked him? Promise me you will. He was only a pup, but a sweet little thing. I only have had him a short time. I named him after a friend's dog who was called Peanuts. He was no thoroughbred, but such a nice dog.

At roll call Sgt. Ferman admonished his men:

"Don't forget, above all else, to find Peanuts."

And all day long men were seen prowling through the village, looking into tin cans, post holes, bird's nests, sausage grinders and searching their vest pockets muttering:

"Where can he be? Where can Peanuts be?"

CLUBHOUSE REMODELED.

Plans have been filed with Building Superintendent Murphy for the remodeling of the clubhouse of the disbanded Colonial Club, at the southwest corner of Broadway and Seventy-second street, owned by Archibald Russell and Percy R. Payne, into an office and store building for the Lincoln Trust Company as lessee.

New staircases and elevators are to be installed and stores built on the first floor with safe deposit vaults in the basement. Part of the first floor will be fitted as banking offices for the Lincoln Trust. The improvements are to cost $20,000, according to the estimate of the architect, John H. Duncan.

SHOPPERS VOTING MONEY FOR CHARITY.

Unique Contest for Prizes Offered by Chapman & Co. Interests.

Brooklynites.

The voting contest for $1,000 in prizes to be distributed among the several charitable organizations that poll the majority of votes is attracting considerable attention in Brooklyn. The money is offered by Chapman & Co. The counting of the ballots has been assigned to the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities.

A large booth has been erected on the second floor of Chapman & Co.'s store where the ballots may be deposited. At the end of the day the ballots are taken out and counted by Mr. Nicholas, who is general secretary of the Bureau. The public can be assured of an exact count and that there will be no favoritism shown in the result.

At the end of the month the Chapman Company will announce the prizes for the various amounts to the charitable institutions that have won. The first prize will be $500, the second $200 and the third $100. The remainder of the money will be divided among the other institutions according to the vote polled.

Let's Have a Big Men's Clothing May Sale of

No sooner was the suggestion made than our buyer began to get in touch with a dozen or more manufacturers. We reasoned things out this way: The season is late and many men have not yet bought their new Spring and Summer Clothing. This very fact told us that the makers MUST be overstocked. We found them so and got the greatest number of bargains ever collected at one time.

Just as actions speak louder than words, so do actualities, and by actualities we mean these unparalleled specials ready to-morrow.

These Suits and Overcoats are small lots, mostly gray, regular $25 suits, from $3 to $8 only.

FIRST ARREST UNDER NEW PRENTICE LAW.
The first arrest under the new Prentice law was made early to-day when John Jones, a barkeeper in the Hotel Vendome, was taken to the West Thirtieth street station. The violation was technical.

None of the other hotels or restaurants in the Tenderloin and none of the saloons or Talmes law hotels have been molested by the police. Officers of the principal bonding companies say at least five hundred hotels of the Talmes law type will be wiped out by the new law.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER.
Card in Pocket Bore Name of John McMahon, Teamster.

The body of a man was found floating in the North River this morning by the police from the West Thirtieth Street Station. The man was about forty-five years old, five feet 8 inches in height, and weighed 200 pounds. He had a dark suit.

In his pocket was found a card with the name "John McMahon, No. 47 West Forty-seventh street, Brotherhood of Teamsters. The body was taken to the Morgue.

DEAD IN BED, GAS ESCAPING.
Andrew Andersen Victim of Accident, Say Police.

Andrew Andersen, a "Longshoreman" was today found dead in bed in his room at No. 450 Greenwich street. The room was flooded with gas from the chamber. The police call it an accident.

Andersen had been out of work for six months owing to illness, but he had always remained good natured. Last night he played euchre with some cronies in the saloon below his room. He seemed in the usual good spirits.

Today, Charles, the "Tuchman", smelled gas coming from Andersen's room. Andersen was found dead, but partially clad in trousers. Two grown sons live somewhere in this country and a wife and other children survive in Sweden.

WOULDN'T BELIEVE BOY WAS DROWNED
Parents Ignored Story, Only Too True, Told by Companions.

Frank D. McStetion, ten years old, whose parents live at No. 509 East Seventy-fifth street, fell into the East River from the pier at Seventy-fifth street, while playing with other boys, yesterday afternoon. His companions ran away in fright, leaving the lad in the water.

Some of the boys went to McStetion's home and told his parents, but, according to the police, the latter did not believe the boy in the water was their boy and paid no attention to what had been told them.

About 11 o'clock last night, however, when young McStetion failed to come home, they learned the truth. Then the parents hastened to the East River.

Sixty-seventh street police station and asked that an effort be made to find the body. This was done without success.

Naval Lieutenant Kidnapped.
Lieut. Alan Drummond, of His British Majesty's navy, has disappeared, and is believed to be kidnapped. The only clue to his fate is found in "A Rock in the Baltic," Robert Barr's wonderful romance of mystery, love and adventure, which begins in the Sunday World next Sunday.
